Cal Phil Hosts Free Classical Concert Camp for Kids

San Marino, CA – The California Philharmonic Orchestra and Westfield Shoppingtown Santa Anita invite children of all ages to enjoy an exciting adventure into the wonderful world of music during the final two free Classical Concert Camps.

Musicians from the orchestra will perform and the children will have an opportunity to play instruments as well as participate in hands-on activities. On September 17th, the program will be “Spectacular Strings”. The final camp session, on October 15th, will be “Song and Gong”. The sessions begin at 4:30 p.m. and are held on the lower level at the Westfield Shoppingtown Santa Anita in the Robinsons-May Court.

The camp is open to all children accompanied by an adult. No reservations needed. Westfield Shoppingtown Santa Anita is located south of the 210 Freeway at Baldwin Avenue and Huntington Drive. For more information, call (626) 445-MALL or Cal Phil at (626) 300-8200 or visit Cal Phil’s website at www.calphil.org
